

Calabasas Capital Advises Global Supply in Acquisition of Innovative Plastics

LOS ANGELES, August 16, 2022 -- Calabasas Capital, a boutique investment banking firm (a dba of Fallbrook Capital, member FINRA/SIPC), announced that its client Global Supply, LLC has completed the successful acquisition and integration of the business assets of Innovative Plastics.

Based in Campbell, California, in the heart of Silicon Valley, Global Supply is a manufacturer and distributor of specialty electronic fasteners, interconnects, hardware, thermally conductive materials, test and measurement equipment. Global Supply's President, Lance Archer, stated, "This acquisition was a great opportunity to expand our manufacturing operations with plastic injection molding capabilities and supports Global Supply's strategy to further develop our existing TekNational brand while also adding new product lines."

The Innovative Plastics brand includes a variety of printed circuit board hardware products including card guides, card ejectors and other nylon assembly hardware products. "The product lines acquired are complementary to our TekNational business which has been at the forefront of the Electronic Hardware Component and Thermal Insulation field for over 41 years" added Archer.

Lance Archer further stated "We are extremely pleased to have successfully completed this transaction and the subsequent integration of the acquired assets. The Calabasas Capital team, led by Andrew Williamson, was a valued and trusted partner in this process and we are looking to complete additional acquisitions with their assistance moving forward." Andrew Williamson, Managing Director at Calabasas Capital stated, "We continue to see attractive opportunities for specialty niche market acquisitions in the fastener and interconnect segment and are excited to support Lance in targeting the right strategic acquisitions for sustained growth."
